President's Report

Hi Members,

Slowly the dog world is starting to get back after the last two years of no shows and no real life.

The trophy show was finally held In Canberra amidst the demonstrations at the grounds it was loud and busy with demonstrators everywhere.

Congratulations to the winners it had a great atmosphere with some Victorians doing very well.

The floods in Queensland and NSW are catastrophic and my thoughts are with everyone impacted by it. Keep safe and look after yourselves.

Alison Sutcliffe
President BTCV

From the Secretary

Hello Members,

Well firstly congratulations to everyone in Canberra, it was great to gather again and see our breeder friends from interstate. Crossing borders has been a bit difficult up until now. It was certainly an eventful weekend with the protestors, if I never hear another truck horn in my life I'll be content!

Our next show schedule is out—and don't forget that SA entries close this week.

I have been busy archiving club records every chance I get and came across some interesting correspondence from the 90's including a presentation on kidneys which despite its age, is still reasonably relevant today, sad we haven't progressed too much with research in that area since then. I decided to attach it with this newsletter for a bit of info. I know that I am still doing ultrasounds and UPC's on my breeding dogs today.

Interestingly there were also a number of letters floating around on another subject that hasn't changed much, the decline of VCA membership, falling revenue, increased expenses and what the VCA were doing to support breeders of pure bred dogs. Some things never change.

Cheers Deb

Critiques

I Would like to thank The Bull Terrier Club of Victoria for the judging appointment on the 28th November, I had a great day also would like to thank the exhibitors for their sportsmanship and accepting my decisions on the day. Overall, I had some quality Bullies unfortunately a lot of them where considerably overweight which makes them look course and loose that true gladiator look with that jaunty movement. There were a few mouth faults nothing too serious.

I would like to Thank you all again for showing under me.

“It’s okay... he’s friendly!”

No. It’s not okay. If you see a dog on a leash - call your dog away.

If your off-lead dog doesn’t have good enough recall to be called away from an on-leash dog - don’t let them off and take the time to train them.

Please think about the other dogs, not just your own.

Dogs can be on-leash for all sorts of reasons, not just because they are fearful of other dogs. Some reasons to recall your dog away:

- recovering from surgery
- elderly / sick
- restricted exercise
- poor recall
- new rescue dog
- young puppy

Protect your dog: dogs who have poor recall can get into all sorts of trouble. If your dog is bitten (even just once) this could lead to your own dog becoming fearful.

IT’S NOT ALL “HOW YOU RAISE THEM”

Certain dog breeds were developed to have certain characteristics. Owners can save themselves a lot of frustration by picking breeds based in their original purpose and how it correlates with their lifestyle.

Want a dog with a lot of handler focus? Don’t get an independent livestock guardian breed.

Want a dog that’s happy to chill all day, every day? Don’t get a high-drive working dog.

Want a dog that will stay with you on off-leash hikes? Don’t go for the hunting breeds.

Genetics are powerful and a pretty good predictor of characteristics.
