EDITOR'S RAVINGS

This is really an exciting time for Dog Breeders, with that Ag show of all Ag shows the ROYAL! At the time of writing the Cockers are still waiting their turn - full results will be rushed to the printer and appear in the Gazette in full. This is a very big Gazette with many ads from our members and full results of the inaugural NATIONAL in Victoria, together with photos of all the In-Show winners. There is also a write up of the "Bus Trip" to Melbourne which was quite an adventure - thanks to Karleen Bennett for preparing it - but most of all THANK YOU KARLEEN from everyone who went on the trip for initiating such a wonderful idea and doing all the organising to make it possible. One of the photos shows the whole crew behind our banner - thanks Tom and Cowell Real Estate who footed the bill - it looked great on our bus and over the area where we all set up at the Show.

Our congratulations must go to the Victorian Club for their expert running of the Show which included excellent Stewards, a recorder, a Video camera and official Photographer. There wasn't a hitch all day. Although ribbons were handed out only to third place, our intrepid result-taker, Betty Hayman recorded all dogs placed by Mr. Weir and these are shown later in the Gazette. All places were important when you consider the size of many of the classes!

We hope publication of photos and details of the day will enable all members to feel that they participated - it was a memorable event. We are very proud to report that ALL IN-SHOW WINNERS are members of the C.S.S. of N.S.W., all bar two in-show dogs from NSW and all bar three in-show winners were from the 'bus' people!! What a fantastic record. The whole show was videoed and certain members have copies which consists of 6 hours of show - these copies are on VHS but Karleen Bennett also videoed using a Beta.

Congratulations to all the winners and place-getters.

We are pleased to welcome the following New Members to our Society: Mr. Woods, Double Bay; Ms. Beasley, Mittagong; Mrs. Heatherington, Doonside.

The following letter was received from Mr. George Ross, who with his wife Bette is now retired to Bilambil Heights. I thought it well worth reporting in full.

"Once having been a co-Editor of the C.S.S. Gazette, I read the last para. of your March Ravings as a plaintive plea!! SO the under-mentioned info might give a basis on which to cook up a few lines.. (instead I thought Mr. Ross' letter was just right! Ed.) Just recently we were browsing through a couple of bits and pieces when Bette handed me a rather solid looking plaque of stainless steel which turned out to be a very interesting bit of Cocker Memoribillia. It bore the following engraving:

THE COCKER SPANIEL SOCIETY OF N.S.W.

FIRST SPANIEL NON-SLIP RETRIEVING TRIAL - held at Leacock's Farm, Casula N.S.W.

NOVEMBER 18th, 1967.

Trial Judge: G.W. Ross Esq. President: P. Hartfield Esq.
Field Trial Director: Mrs. G.T. Livingstone. Sec. Mrs. B. Schou

The plaque was presented to me by the members of the Society. As Bette and I reflected upon that rather significant event, we became very much aware of a member who sincerely believed in the concepts enunciated in the Standard that the Cocker was intended to be an active, merry SPORTING dog. Truda put her whole heart & soul into promoting the Cocker to then end, so much so that apart from accepting the responsibilities of being the Trial Director she trained & produced a Ret. Trial Champion "Tulgiva Dianna". As has been stated recently N.S.W. is the ONLY Cocker Soc. in Aust. which promotes Trialling.

Maybe this info. will cause some raised eyebrows and perhaps the remark - 'Gosh, just to think that WE'VE been doing it for 18 years and I haven't been to see one!"

Thank you George and Bette - you've given us something to think about

THE A.N.C.S.C. FIRST NATIONAL SHOW - 10th MARCH, 1985

ALL ABOARD - COACH TRIP TO MELBOURNE -

ONE 'WOW' OF A WEEK-END !!

Like all new ventures you never know what's in store, until you try it, and of course, with the thoughts of 22 people and 40 dogs on one bus travelling 1,000 odd miles altogether, does not deter you, then perhaps staying at a Motel overnight with all those dogs would. Well, I would like to tell you something about our trip.

Our bus driver, 'Bill' was wonderful. I mean the fact that he was under 25, single and a break dancer as well as a T.V. star, had nothing to do with the it! Bill took the job on, when his boss at the last minute could not do it and was never really sure what to expect, that is until the trip actually started. Prior to the trip, when speaking to him, he was well prepared to bring ear plugs and plenty of cassettes.

Well by 5 a.m. Saturday morning all cars were parked at '5a' and according to plans we were packed ready to go, but alas one passenger was still to come, then with a 100 mph dash arrived Mrs. Killworth and Mrs. Gotch, who had only been three weeks out of hospital after a major operation - not that I think that was the reason they were late. However, after further packing, off we went leaving at 10 past 5. Not bad when you think our aim was to leave at 5 a.m. and we had passengers come as far as Gosford - namely Mrs. Formston, together with the Helensburgh gang, and of course the Haymans who were minus their kids (on their second honeymoon) with eighteen other women, poor Raymond!! Whilst on the subject of kids, you know this Club must have some of the best, well-mannered and co-operative kinds around. Really I mean it - the three that went on the bus with us were fabulous, helping us in and out of the bus, even entertaining us with Bill's help on the way home.

Enough of the rambling, by the time we reached the outskirts of Campbelltown Bill realised that he had not left the dogs behind and true to what was told to him they had all (bar one!) curled up and gone to sleep. The only noise was the owners deciding whether to play cards, eat, sleep or judge the show before arriving at our destination. Thanks to a few on the bus, Betty Hayman's scones and the beaut sandwiches (all named!) and fruit cake organised by Olga Stevens (what would we do without her?) we were all fed and watered at regular intervals all the way to Melbourne.

I would like to say that at one stop-over on the way down to Melbourne, Bill was asked to pull over so we could walk the dogs, having prior to this stopped at the 'Dog on the Tucker Box', well

Bill pulled up at this lovely park (Benalla) and if you think parking a snack, try parking a bus, in a main street, on the opposite side of the road to which we were travelling with 22 back seat drivers!! After we eventually parked, a few of us noticed a sign just as we went to alight - "Arts & Crafts here today". We just didn't have the heart to tell Bill to move. Well, can you imagine sitting in a country park amidst marvellous rose gardens, taking your family out to see the 'Arts & Crafts' and having your spot of afternoon tea, when you're invaded by a buss carrying people (who you can understand) but 40 dogs getting out of the bus!!! I mean, so much for the 'Arts & Crafts' - I think we made their day, particularly when we all had tea after walking our dogs. So I don't have to tell you the trip itself was full of fun, laughs and more laughs - not the least caused by the look on the faces of the guys at the Truck Weighing Station when they saw the 'cargo'. I really don't think we could have had a better crowd for this first new venture.

Well, back to the bus. We arrived at the Hotel Motel at approximately 4.30 p.m. Well, it was not the Hotel Menzies, but we had to find a place that would accept our dogs, and a place we could have plenty of room to exercise without cars running us over, etc. This place was ideal and I'm sure everyone will agree A.I. in this respect. One thing to be mentioned, was the terrific co-operation of everyone in helping each other at the dog 'comfort' stops, making each of these operations smooth and uncomplicated. The dogs too, were terrific - letting themselves be handled by a variety of persons.

Well, after walking feeding and settling the dogs down, we then thought of ourselves. Betty Hayman proved to be the 'Handy Lady with the Iron' and so all pressed up and sproosed, we invaded the dining room. After several pre-dinner drinks and a very nice tea with our driver Bill, we proceeded to sing Happy Birthday to Barbara Killworth despite protests that it was NOT her birthday. We then discovered it WAS Paul Carroll's, so after a cake was produced, compliments of Denise's sister (who had joined us for dinner) we sang another Happy Birthday to Paul. In view of our very early start that and the next morning, we decided against accompanying Bill to the break dancing, although he did give us a demonstration in the reception room, after a little persuasion from one of our fellow exhibitors. That same exhibitor (one Ann O'Keefe) also 'helped' the desk clerk when we were paying our bills!! Poor man - he didn't know what to make of us all.

President Tom Bennett had organised a terrific banner (sponsored by Cowells Real Estate, Gladesville) for the bus, so early next morning, after bacon and eggs, we arrived at the Show Grounds driving right in with our banner sporting the words 'COCKER SPANIEL SOCIETY OF N.S.W.' proudly displayed. I will leave details of the Show itself for someone else to tell elsewhere in this Gazette. I would like to say at this stage though, that the morale of each person on the bus was high, and as it was later mentioned to me during the Show from another exhibitor from another State, it was just like old times seeing people cheer the winners, whether their's or not - well, we did take twenty-two people down, plus Bill who by this time was the leader of our cheer squad. But I do think and hope we have learnt something - that we can all work together, show together and cheer together, for the betterment of our breed.

After the show, the Victorian Club once again excelled themselves in their after-showdinner. If you have not been to a Melbourne Cocker Show, believe me you don't know what you're missing. Their hospitality is always high and I really don't think we could have had a better State to present our first National. It was well organised, superb trophies and even the weather was hot, and to finish off, the judge was charm himself - win or lose he was a delight to show under.

After the Show we all proceeded upstairs for the after-show dinner and a questionnaire and answer from a panel including our Judge, Mr Weir, Mrs. Jenkins (Cocker specialist) Mr. John Thompson (Cocker Specialist) and Mr. Bridgeford (A.B. Judge). The seminar was chaired by Mr. Boxall. This proved a very informative and fitting conclusion to a fabulous day.

BUT - it wasn't quite concluded. We had loaded our coach (time about 9.15 p.m.!!) ready for our long trip home and were opening bottles of champagne to celebrate the fantastic success of our 'bus people' when Mr. Richmond Weir paid us a surprise visit - in view of his choice, we decided to let him aboard!! He shared champagne with us - a lovely surprise for us all. Truly, I could go on for many more pages, but I'm sure you have the picture - WE HAD A GREAT TIME - and speaking for the people who went, we are waiting for the next one. (We will bar Julie from playing cards though, on the bus!)

Found and still unclaimed on the bus - TOWELS - 1 brown; Bag - Green. Please contact K.B. 602-5448 if you own them.

THE DOG GAME

Nigel Aubrey-Jones

THE DOG IN THE SHOW RING.

For the New Exhibitor - and perhaps also for some of the not so New !

Learn from the Steward when your class will be called and be ready to take your dog promptly after the preceding class has left the ring.

Give your dog the finishing touches of grooming just before you take him into the ring. Get your arm band or number from the Secretary and make sure the number is correct.

A slip lead (Choke collar style) is handy as it can be taken on or off instantly and is always adjustable. This makes the use of a collar unnecessary in the Show Ring.

If leather collar is used, it should be round. The lead (Flat preferred) should not be more than six feet long; it should be light not heavy.

Keep your dog always on the left hand side and between you and the Judge. Do not get too close to somebody else or his dog.

Keep your eye on the Judge and keep your dog showing every instant. Keep your dog alert with a motion of the hand or a spoken word (or you may resort to common use of a bit of boiled liver or other titbit the dog likes although this and squeaking toys are necessary evils).

When gaiting the dog, if the dog gets out of gait, slow him up with a sharp jerk on the lead, or stop him dead and start anew.

1. Don't wear your hat in the Ring.
2. Don't smoke in the Ring.
3. Don't pay so much attention to one part of the dog that you overlook other important parts.
4. Don't call the Judge's notice to a fault by trying too much to conceal or minimise it.
5. Don't call your dog by its registered name or any other name.
6. Don't converse unnecessarily with the Judge or the Steward or other exhibitors of the ringside. Better say nothing at all.
7. Don't tell the Judge about your dog, his pedigree and his wins at some other show.
8. Don't "Hog" the attention of the Judge.
9. Don't argue with the Judge as you leave the ring, if you don't agree with his placings. Ask him, after he has finished all his work, to explain his reasons, if he feels so inclined.
10. Don't have the jitters, be calm and collected; if you are nervous you transmit your excitement to the dog.
11. Don't let the dog boss you; keep both the dog and yourself under control.
12. Don't punish or scold your dog in the ring; it shows poor training and lack of control.
13. Don't fuss with your dog if he is showing well.
14. Don't have your dog facing a strong light nor place him in a dark part of the ring.
15. Don't let the Judge's hand come close to the mouth of a biting dog.
16. Don't get between the dog and the Judge.
17. Don't loaf in the ring before or after your class is judged.
18. Don't mope around, stand idly or gaze absent mindedly; keep your mind and eyes on your dog, with a side glance at the Judge every second until the ribbons are handed out.
19. Don't get too close to another dog or person purposely or not purposely. The other fellow may be a bigger bully than you.
20. Don't try to draw attention to yourself; the dog is on show not you.

V. Hampson

To justify our presence in dogs, most of us have some sentimental reason that we unashamedly expose when given the opportunity. It is our defence against those who do not understand why we devote so much time to the study, ownership, companion-ship, competition and breeding of dogs — when they claim that our time and effort could or should be engaged in more worthwhile aims. It is difficult to explain the bug to those who have not been bitten.

The different effects

People involved in dogs are affected in different ways. The effect is like alcohol — under its influence some improve and others do not. Dogs can make the duller people into sparkling and exciting conversationalists, and intelligent people the most uninteresting bores. Dogs can reveal the honest and expose the deceitful. Those suited to being involved in dogs can experience exhilarating elevation, and those who are not can become boisterous bad sports.

Dogs never discriminate

Through the ages dogs have given man admiration, gratitude and sympathy when he needed it most. Stories of the love and sacrifices dogs have made for man have filled thousands of books. While their owners have become more cynical and bitter about each other — dogs have never discriminated against their masters. In fact, dogs appear to have done everything for man — except judge him.

The right to challenge corruption

Why is it, then, that the world of dog breeding and showing is so often accused of attracting more than its fair share of individuals of doubtful integrity? Particularly so when there is so little evidence to substantiate the accusations of bribery and corruption, and when the rules governing dog breeding and showing make it so easy for those with proof to expose it. The sport of dogs is run as fairly and as honestly as the breeder, exhibitor and judge wish it. The governing body is not inundated with valid or substantiated official complaints. Consider the numbers involved each year in registrations, shows and entries, in addition to the number of handlers, breeders, exhibitors and judges participating — as compared to the infinitesimal number of complaints, reprimands and suspensions. Your conclusion has to be that the sport of dogs is as clean and healthy as any other, if not more so. Everyone who participates in the sport has the opportunity to prove it otherwise by virtue of no basic evidence to the contrary — in spite of the right to challenge any corruption — the integrity of dogdom has the endorsement of its supporters.

Dogs cannot talk

Dogs cannot talk. People can and do. Sometimes a lot of empty talk, even in the highest of doggy circles by people who should know better, about influence and corruption. If those who talk of being able to influence judges did have this power, they would most certainly go to great lengths to conceal it. It is unfortunate that the erroneous impression that the judging of dogs is a matter of gaining favour and influence is most prevalent among the newcomers into the sport. They assume that the slightest social contact with a person who judges dogs allows them the dangerous privilege of inferring they can extend influence for both themselves and others. The seasoned and experienced quickly recognize this as a substitute for lack of genuine dog knowledge. The wise are wary of the influence peddlers, knowing that they seek more influence than they can possibly give.

The loser

There are few sports that have given so many so much for so little in return, as the sport of dogs. A sport that knows no national boundaries, that has been responsible for cementing many great international friendships. We have an obligation to preserve and defend its integrity. We know, or should know, that good dogs can and do win or are always thereabout. They have proved that they can survive the test of the most corruptible of judges. Very few good dogs have ever been lost to their breed — the only one that loses is the judge who missed him. We have said of dogs, "To their virtues be ever kind and their faults a little blind." Perhaps it is as well that dogs cannot talk.
