

German Shepherd Dog Club of Tasmania

Championship Show 24 September 2023

Judge: A O'Loughlin (SA)

I'd firstly like to thank the club for the appointment. Thank you to the exhibitors for their sportsmanship and accepting my decisions. Congratulations to the club on running the shows. It is hard work for a small club, but you have all done a fantastic job.

The weather for the day was excellent - it was sunny and warm, but not hot.

There was a total of 24 entries with 18 being presented. The overall quality of the animals was good.

There was only 1 animal that didn't receive the highest grading and this was due to an ear that should be overall firmer. I strongly believe that the German Shepherd should be recognisable from its outline alone - both in profile and head-on. When we start to lose the breed characteristics (such as ears that aren't carried upright and almost parallel), we lose that instant recognition and this is the reason for my grading of this animal.

Overall, there were a lot of restrictions of the croup. Only a couple of animals had very good croups, and a couple that had very good length but set slightly steep. Also, in the length and lay of the upper arm - there were very few animals with very good forequarters. Toplines were very good, with very few animals presenting peaks. There were a number of animals presented with restrictions in the length of under chest, which is most evident on the move.

Notable animals for me were my Best in Show winner, Obama du Montgison, Runner Up in Show winner, Roxamburg Caught In The Rain, and Best Long Stock Coat, Bodecka Ooh La La. 3 animals of very good quality. I would have liked to see Bodecka Ooh La La in better coat condition, as this then would complete the picture of her very good anatomy.

Of the 18 animals presented, they were by 10 different sires, with Wulkano-Uno Von Scnitzerteam and Alwin Vom Haus Nesgen presenting half of the animals (5 and 4 respectively).

A notable dam was Roxamburg Rebel for Kicks, who had 3 progeny in Intermediate with 1st and 2nd Intermediate dog, and the Intermediate bitch taking Runner Up in Show.
